What Will I See?

Adult seals begin arriving on the beaches by mid-December. Bulls engage in battles for breeding access to females. Pregnant females come ashore to have pups beginning in mid-December, with births reaching a peak by late January. Mothers nurse their pups for about a month before weaning their pup, mating, and departing back to sea. By the end of February, most adult seals have returned to the sea, leaving behind hundreds of weaned pups.

In March, groups of pups play in the dunes and learn to swim in the tide pools before departing to the sea.
